You are invited to subscribe to EFLA's Publication Service

The Educational Film Library Association invites you to participate in the benefits of a film information service created specifically to help your media program evaluate the wealth of films available in education today. EFLA is the only national organization to focus on the selection, evaluation and use of films and other visual media in schools and libraries.

As a film librarian or AV director, you know the problems associated with the increasing volume of films currently available on the educational market. Your AV dollars don't stretch as far as they used to, due to inflation and budget cuts. Meanwhile, the demand for films has increased along with the number of titles released each year. How can you select the best of the new releases without spending hours of staff time searching and previewing? EFLA's Publication Service can help.

EFLA has been evaluating non-theatrical films for the past 35 years, resulting in almost 10,000 published evaluations. EFLA evaluations are unique among reviewing services because the films are evaluated by committees comprised of experienced film professionals in public libraries, universities, schools and museums across the country—your peers.

Since 1943, EFLA has been known as a national clearinghouse for information on 16mm films and other non-print media through its extensive programs of publications, workshops, reference and advisory services. EFLA also sponsors the American Film Festival, acknowledged as the most important non-theatrical festival in the U.S.

Membership in the Educational Film Library Association entitles you to participate in a wide range of services and will help you create a viable media program for your school, library or organization.

You will receive:

EFLA EVALUATIONS, published 10 times a year, cover some 400 films annually. A hard-cover book collection of past evaluations is also available.

SIGHTLINES, a quarterly magazine which focuses on a new theme in each issue. Recent issues have covered: Television & Video, Special Education, Family Life, Black & Ethnic Films, Creative Curriculum Films, Feature Film Use, Films in Church & Temple, International Films. In addition, each issue contains: Who's Who in Filmmaking (interviews), The Film List (new film/video releases), News Notes (listing new books and current events), Freedom to View (covering intellectual freedom issues), Feature Films on 8mm & 16mm (updates the Limbacher book), young viewers (a special pull-out section covering films and other media for children).

EFLA BULLETIN, a quarterly newsletter, brings you the latest news of current events in the film field and the activities of EFLA member institutions.

AMERICAN FILM FESTIVAL PROGRAM, an annual list, includes descriptive annotations of over 375 films selected from more than 1,000 entries for showing at the annual American Film Festival.

SERVICE SUPPLEMENTS, one or more free publications annually, including evaluative filmographies, bibliographies, reports, or monographs on current topics.

DISCOUNTS on other EFLA publications, as well as discounts on selected titles from other publishers. EFLA publications (over 30 titles currently available) include: Manual on Film Evaluation, Film Evaluation Guides, 16mm Distribution, Films for Young Adults, plus Educational Media Organizations, Aging, Movies about Movies, Film Library Administration Bibliography. Complete list of over 30 titles available on request.

FILM LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION EXCHANGE. Packets of information on various aspects of running a film library may be borrowed free of charge. Topics include selection policies, booking systems, publicity and procedures for handling complaints, etc.

The Educational Film Library Association urges you to take full advantage of these unique services. 16mm films are the most expensive educational materials you acquire; your institution deserves the most thoughtful assessments available on new films and developments in the field. EFLA's publication subscription service is essential to those institutions utilizing film as an educational format.

Join us now in promoting the use of quality film material in the classroom and in the community.

Information about other EFLA services and membership categories available on request.

EFLA has been evaluating non-theatrical films for the past 35 years, resulting in almost 10,000 published evaluations. EFLA evaluations are unique among reviewing services because the films are evaluated by committees comprised of experienced film professionals in public libraries, universities, schools and museums across the country—your peers.

Since 1943, EFLA has been known as a national clearinghouse for information on 16mm films and other non-print media through its extensive programs of publications, workshops, reference and advisory services. EFLA also sponsors the American Film Festival, acknowledged as the most important non-theatrical festival in the U.S.

Membership in the Educational Film Library Association entitles you to participate in a wide range of services and will help you create a viable media program for your school, library or organization.

You will receive:

EFLA EVALUATIONS, published 10 times a year, cover some 400 films annually. A hard-cover book collection of past evaluations is also available.

SIGHTLINES, a quarterly magazine which focuses on a new theme in each issue. Recent issues have covered: Television & Video, Special Education, Family Life, Black & Ethnic Films, Creative Curriculum Films, Feature Film Use, Films in Church & Temple, International Films. In addition, each issue contains: Who's Who in Filmmaking (interviews), The Film List (new film/video releases), News Notes (listing new books and current events), Freedom to View (covering intellectual freedom issues), Feature Films on 8mm & 16mm (updates the Limbacher book), young viewers (a special pull-out section covering films and other media for children).

EFLA BULLETIN, a quarterly newsletter, brings you the latest news of current events in the film field and the activities of EFLA member institutions.

AMERICAN FILM FESTIVAL PROGRAM, an annual list, includes descriptive annotations of over 375 films selected from more than 1,000 entries for showing at the annual American Film Festival.

SERVICE SUPPLEMENTS, one or more free publications annually, including evaluative filmographies, bibliographies, reports, or monographs on current topics.

DISCOUNTS on other EFLA publications, as well as discounts on selected titles from other publishers. EFLA publications (over 30 titles currently available) include: Manual on Film Evaluation, Film Evaluation Guides, 16mm Distribution, Films for Young Adults, plus Educational Media Organizations, Aging, Movies about Movies, Film Library Administration Bibliography. Complete list of over 30 titles available on request.

FILM LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION INFORMATION EXCHANGE. Packets of information on various aspects of running a film library may be borrowed free of charge. Topics include selection policies, booking systems, publicity and procedures for handling complaints, etc.

The Educational Film Library Association urges you to take full advantage of these unique services. 16mm films are the most expensive educational materials you acquire; your institution deserves the most thoughtful assessments available on new films and developments in the field. EFLA's publication subscription service is essential to those institutions utilizing film as an educational format.

Join us now in promoting the use of quality film material in the classroom and in the community.

Information about other EFLA services and membership categories available on request.
